our promise to you

Welcome to Dún Laoghaire Institute of Art, Design + Technology (IADT)

We are committed to providing the highest quality service possible. IADT's Learner Charter sets out the standards of service we aim to provide you with. It explains the responsibilities between staff and students, and the partnership approach we take with our learners. This Learner Charter is important to the relationship we want to cultivate between IADT and our learners.

Our vision is to support learning, teaching, research and innovation, and to play a leading role in the development of industries focusing on the creative, cultural and digital technologies sectors. Our mission is to harness creativity and innovation as expressed in the arts, technology and entrepreneurship. We work in partnership with learners and stakeholders to develop graduates who are innovative, creative, entrepreneurial and adaptable, and ready to meet the challenges of the digital sectors.

The Learner Charter is emailed to every student in September. Please take the time to read it. It's an important part of your commitment as a student to us, as well as ours to you. It is reviewed regularly in consultation with students and staff and your feedback is always welcome.

You have the right to expect us to provide you with:

General information:

- A Student Handbook introducing you to IADT, the campus, regulations and facilities.
- An induction to general services and facilities.

Information specific to your programme:

- Information and contact details for the staff responsible for your programme of study.
- An induction session to your programme and faculty.

- Make your best attempt at each element of assessment in your programme.
- Respect the rights of others in all learning spaces.

You have the right to expect:

- To be treated with courtesy and respect in all your dealings with IADT.
- To be treated fairly regardless of gender, marital status, age, disability, race, religion, sexual orientation, family status, or membership of the Traveller Community.
- To be able to participate fully in all IADT activities without fear and free from discrimination.
- To study in an environment free from harassment and abuse of power.
- To have your learning needs assessed and met as far as is reasonably practicable.
- To work and study in a safe and healthy environment.
- To have access to your files and any personal data held by IADT as provided for under Data Protection and Freedom of Information (FOI) legislation.
- To be encouraged to provide feedback on all our services.
- That your personal information will remain confidential, and can be released to a third party only with your consent or by legal requirement.

We have the right to expect that you will:

- Treat all staff, fellow students and visitors with courtesy and respect regardless of gender, marital status, age, disability, race, religion, sexual orientation, family status, or membership of the Traveller Community.
- Advise appropriate staff of any concerns you may have regarding equality or personal safety and do so in a timely manner.
- Take every precaution to ensure that you behave in a safe and considerate manner towards all staff and students.
- Behave in a manner which will not bring IADT into disrepute.
- Adhere to all IADT regulations in the student handbook concerning drugs, alcohol and smoking.
- Adhere to the highest standards of language and behaviour expected by IADT. Student interaction with staff and with each other both in person and particularly on social media is expected to be respectful, inclusive and constructive in order to abide by the IADT Mutual Respect policy.
- Take care that your interpersonal communications in both physical and virtual environments are respectful of others at all times.
- Act in a safe and responsible manner towards others.

We are here to support you

We have the right to expect that you will:

- Provide us with information on any additional needs you may have in a timely fashion.
- Take personal responsibility for seeking any support you may need.

What if there is a problem?

You have the right to expect:

- Information about the standards of behaviour IADT expects.
- Access to the student complaints procedure: an accessible and straightforward system where concerns can be raised.
- Complaints to be dealt with fairly and quickly.
- Fair and appropriate procedures to be in place to deal with misdemeanours and serious offences, and that such procedures will be strictly adhered to.
- Disciplinary incidents to be dealt with fairly and quickly, and that you will be informed of any sanctions.

We have the right to expect that you will:

- Make yourself aware of IADT's complaints and disciplinary procedures.
- Use the complaints procedures fairly and appropriately.

Online Communications

IADT requires and expects that respect will be shown to all staff and students when communicating electronically/online, in any context.

If you are unsure about what is acceptable and unacceptable behaviour, please refer to the Mutual Respect Policy at iadt.ie. Bullying behaviour in an online context is covered by both the Learner Charter and the Mutual Respect Policy.

Our Learner Charter, Mutual Respect Policy, Disciplinary Procedures, and laws on defamation apply to online and offline communication. In this context online communication includes: email, VLEs (Virtual Learning Environments), instant messaging, chat rooms, and electronic noticeboards as well as all social media networks.

Recourse to the Office of the Ombudsman + Office of the Ombudsman for Children

If you are 18 or over, under the provisions of the Ombudsman (Amendment) Act 2012, any student who is dissatisfied with the way in which they are treated by IADT with effect from 1st May 2013 will have recourse to the Office of the Ombudsman.
